

Legislative Training a Huge Success

A group of over 40 advocates gathered at the Legislative Office Building on March 1, 2013 to learn more about and how to influence legislation and their elected officials. Cosponsored by the Brain Injury Association of New Hampshire (BIANH) and the Governor's Commission on Disability, participants learned about how an idea becomes a piece of legislation and then how legislation becomes law. Many of the participants were connected in some way to the people with disabilities. Several topics arose regarding the ADA, accessibility, and ensuring that all can participate in the legislative process. The day included lunch at the State House cafeteria and a tour of the Capitol. We were pleased and honored to have with us a distinguished legislative panel who shared their experiences and expertise. Thanks to all who attended. We plan to do this again in the fall!

Representative Maureen Mann, Rep. Lisa DiMartino, former Rep. Dee Hogan, and Rep. Mariellen Mackay address the group.
